

RTA PI CLAIMS PROCESS

RTA Portal - Response to possible extension of PI Claims Protocol

While no specific details are available, the announcement by the Prime Minister, David Cameron, late last week suggested potential plans to extend the current RTA PI scheme. Independent Chair of RTA Portal Co, Tim Wallis, responded by saying that “the detail of how and when this extension will be achieved will need to be considered carefully, including the impact on the current RTA Portal system which would need to be amended.”

Until the MOJ consultation is published and more detail is available to consider, RTA Portal Co cannot provide any more information. As part of the RTA Portal user community you will be aware of ongoing developments to the online Portal as well as the focus given to communicating any such changes. Please rest assured that, as Tim Wallis has publicly asserted, RTA Portal Co will continue to work closely with all Portal users and the Ministry of Justice to consider the best way to introduce any such new arrangements and avoid significant disruptions.
